

INDUSTRIAL MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY

Durable & Non-Durable Goods Manufacturing

From car battery gigafactories to turbine manufacturers to fabricated metal products, the Industrial Manufacturing Industry continues to embrace new technologies, including robotics, data-driven automation and 3D printing. Asia has emerged as a global manufacturing powerhouse, but manufacturing-related projects proliferate in other regions, such as North America and Europe. In just the U.S., an estimated 9% of the work force are in the business of making things.

Encompassing a broad array of industry segments, Industrial Info's Industrial Manufacturing coverage includes a very diverse range of projects and plants in North America and rapidly expanding global activity in Europe, Asia, Australia, and South America.
